Placing Your People in Safe Hands

Offshore Handling Systems

Provide a range of hand safety tools that fully support a 'Hands Free' working environment. Designed by rig workers for rig workers, each tool has been engineered to address specific challenges during the movement and positioning of loads by supplying a robust safety solution to each operational activity. By providing tools that reduce the need to physically place your hands on the load, you are well on your way to mitigating, and ultimately, eliminating the risk associated with this activity.
